

Smart Urbanism Seminar

Urban Land Use Planning Unit, Department of Urban Engineering, School of Engineering, The University of Tokyo

This seminar invites two visiting scholars focusing on smart urbanism from different perspectives. Students, researchers and practitioners interested in the topic are all welcome to join the lectures and discussion. The seminar will be held in English.

Lecture 1

Smart Urbanism - learning from Tokyo's legacy for the future

Perry P J Yang | <https://planning.gatech.edu/people/perry-yang>

Professor and Director of Eco Urban Lab, School of City and Regional Planning and School of Architecture, College of Design, Georgia Institute of Technology, USA

Lecture 2

Tokyo's ecological transition, smart city development, and temporal challenges

Claudio Coletta | <https://www.unibo.it/sitoweb/claudio.coletta/en>

Senior Assistant Professor, Department of Philosophy and Communication, University of Bologna, Italy

Discussion

Akito Murayama (coordinator and contact person) | <http://up.t.u-tokyo.ac.jp/%7Emurayama/>

Associate Professor, Urban Land Use Planning Unit, Department of Urban Engineering, School of Engineering, The University of Tokyo

Date and Time

Friday, October 14, 2022

5:10PM-7:00PM

Venue (Hybrid)

- Lecture Room 144, 2nd Floor, School of Engineering Building 14, The University of Tokyo
- Zoom Online (Meeting ID and passcode will be sent to participants by e-mail)

Registration (Required): <https://forms.gle/VwyeJEerq6WPxenJ9>